It's actually UNBELIEF that God can't bring you through the situation.

When you're worrying You're leaning on your own understanding.....

Mormons - believe that God was once as we are now. They also believe that Jesus was a created being and the spirit brother of Lucifer and that there are three different types of Heavens for Mormons, the Celestial, Terrestrial, and Telestial. Based on how you live you can become a god and rule a planet. Salvation is worked based.

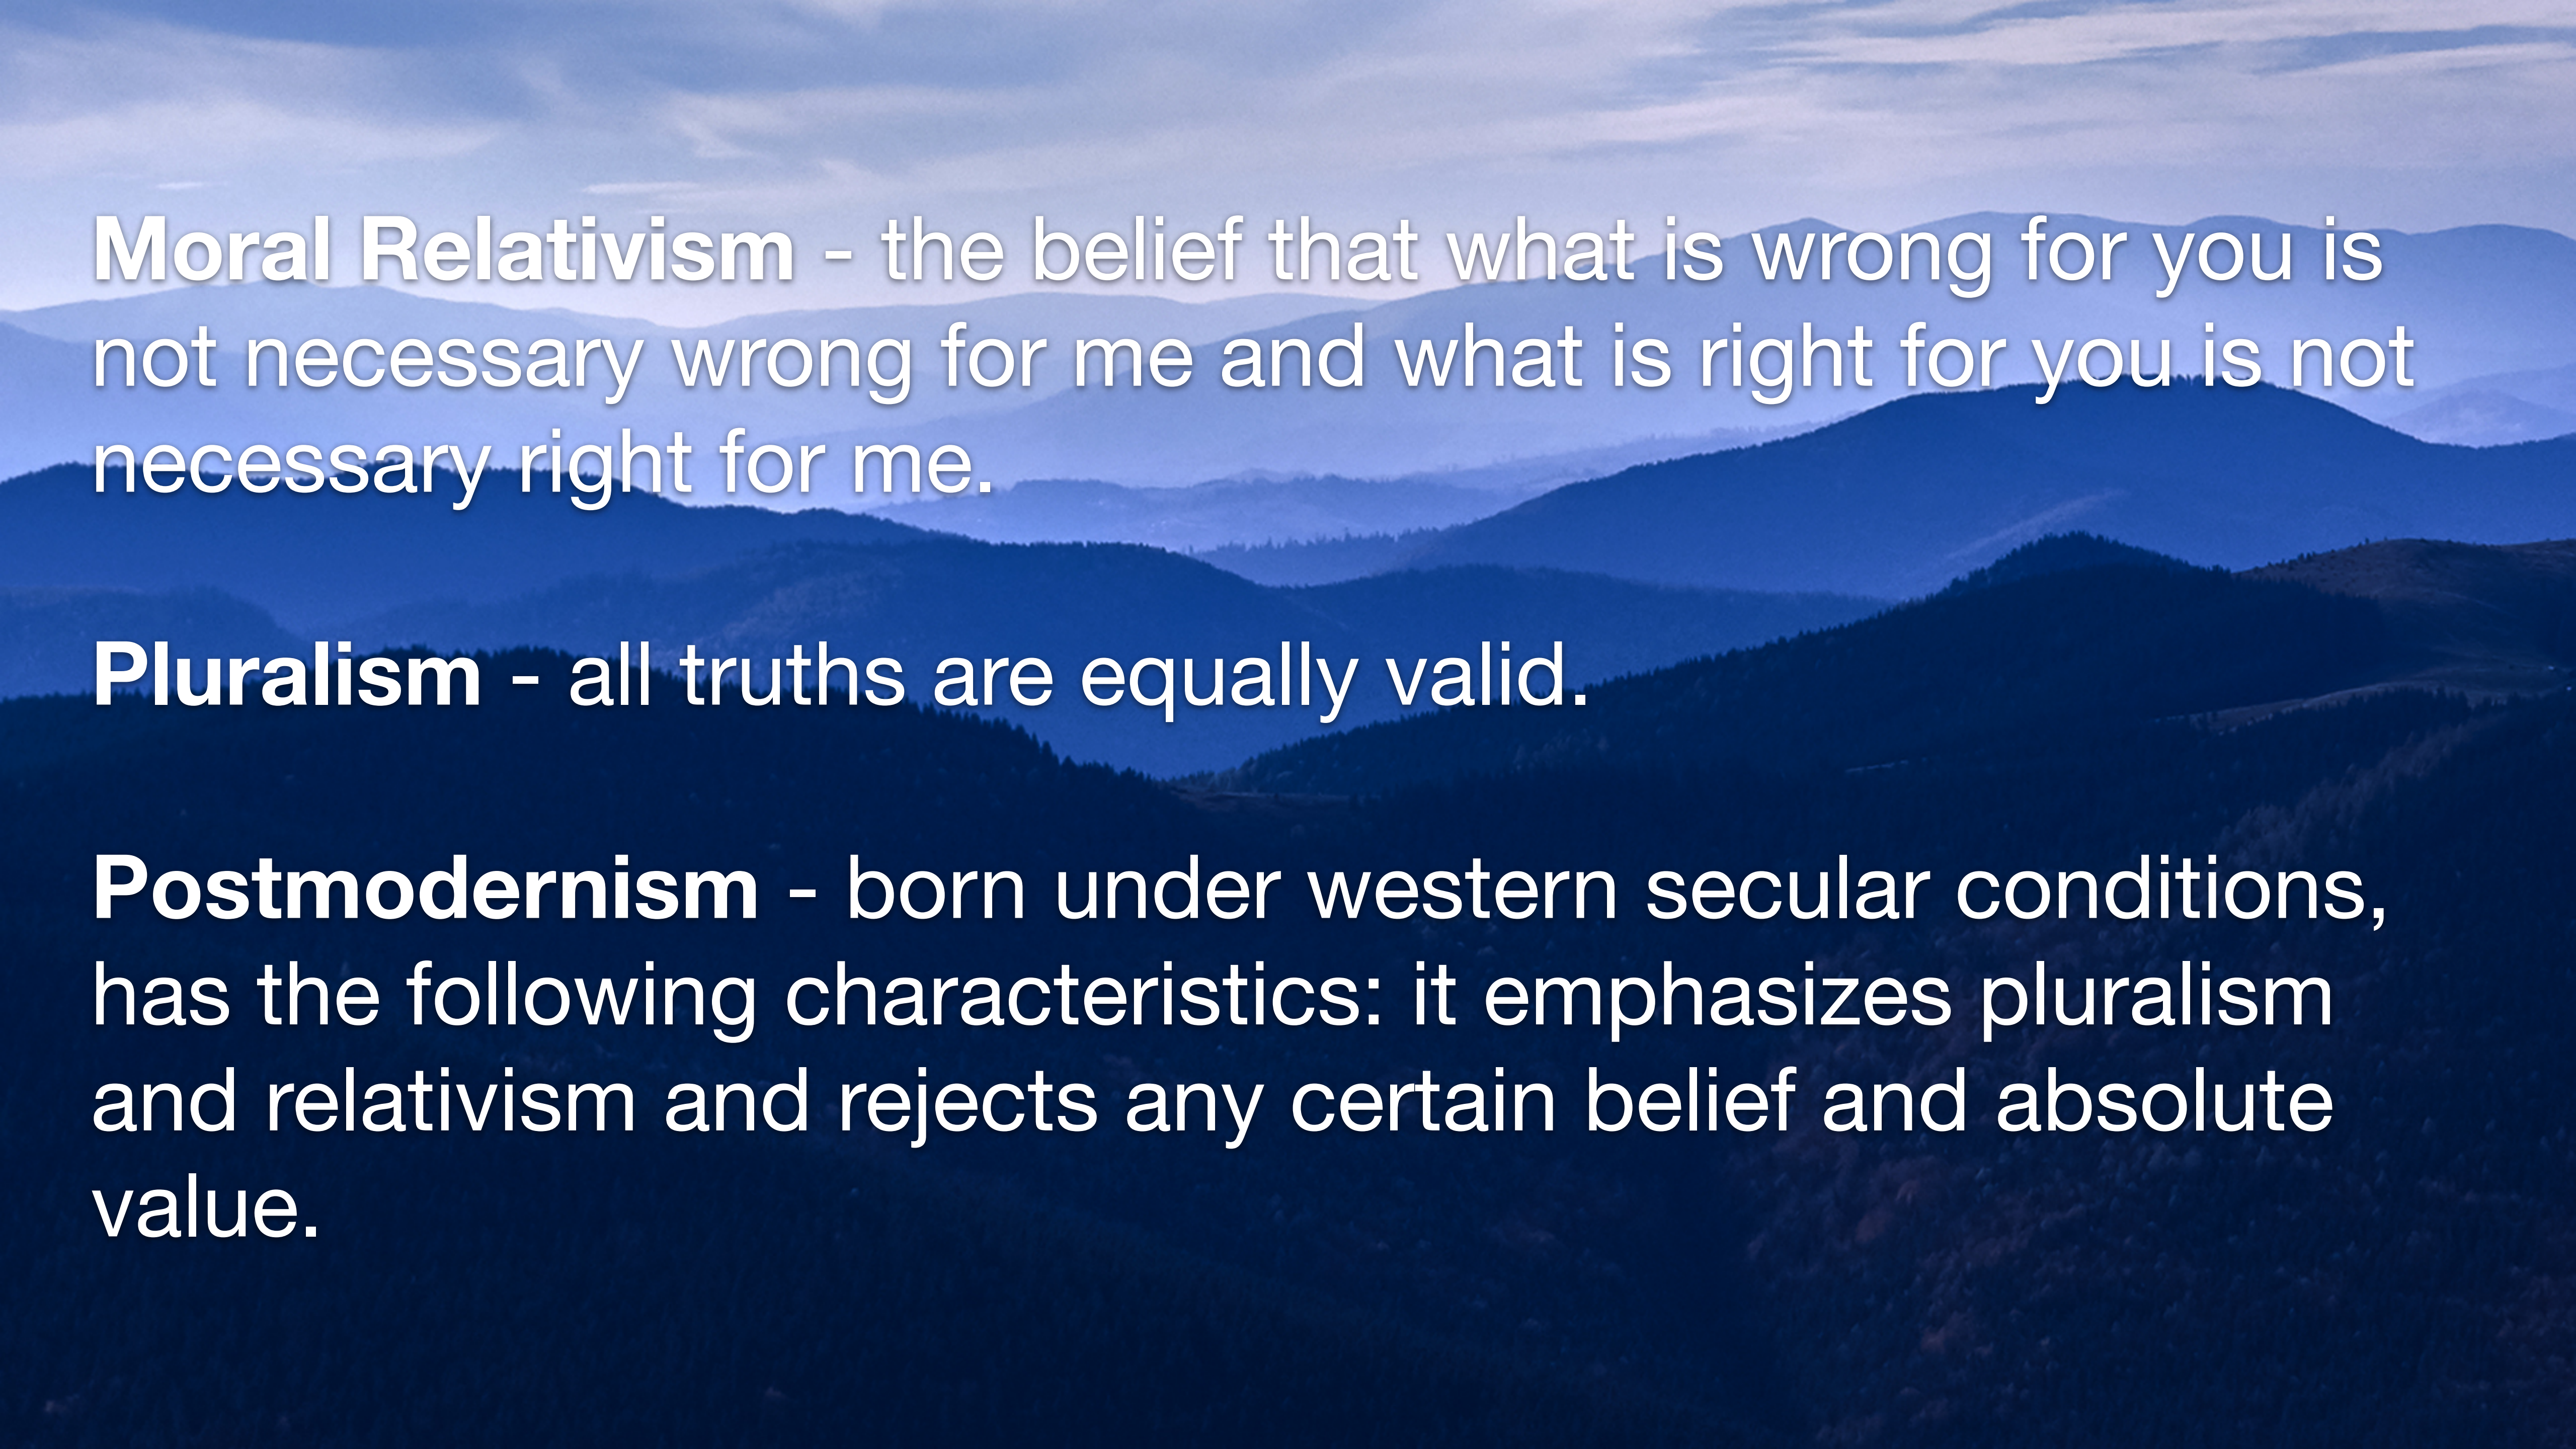

Jehovah's witnesses - deny the trinity of God. For Salvation they believe in the existence of a two class, highly complex, and work oriented system of salvation, one which holds that only a handful of people will enter the higher levels of paradise. Only people of their religion will go to heaven and they don't believe in Hell.

Islam - The Qur'an denies the crucifixion of Christ, Jesus was never crucified and, thus, never resurrected.

Buddhism - There is no concept of punishment or reward and there is no divine being who decides who goes to hell or heaven. When you die it leads to rebirth or reincarnation.

Hinduism - Salvation is the individual's soul liberation from the cycle of death and rebirth and attainment of the highest spiritual state. It is the ultimate goal of Hinduism.

Moral Relativism - the belief that what is wrong for you is not necessary wrong for me and what is right for you is not necessary right for me.

Pluralism - all truths are equally valid.

Postmodernism - born under western secular conditions, has the following characteristics: it emphasizes pluralism and relativism and rejects any certain belief and absolute value.
